- Conduct research to identify trends and insights in health communications and community engagement.
- Collaborate with team members to design promotional materials and presentations.
- Monitor media coverage and assist in drafting press releases and media alerts.
- Assist in maintaining the organization's brand and ensuring consistent messaging.

Qualifications

- Currently pursuing or recently completed a degree in Communications, Public Relations, Marketing, or a related field.
- Strong written and verbal communication skills.
- Proficiency in social media platforms and digital communication tools.
- Creative thinking and the ability to work independently and as part of a team.
- Strong organizational skills and attention to detail.
- Passion for public health and community service is a plus.

Job Benefits

- Hands-on experience in the communications field within a health organization.
