Jonsson Workwear: Graduate Internships 2025 Apply Online

Description

Jonsson Workwear is committed to producing high-quality, durable workwear that meets the needs of our diverse clientele. We pride ourselves on our innovative approach and our dedication to excellence. Our Graduate Internship Programme is an integral part of our commitment to nurturing the next generation of leaders in production and business operations.

Our Graduate Internship Programme is designed to welcome recent graduates into our business, offering them the opportunity to make an impact and fast-track their careers in production leadership. This immersive two-year programme provides a deep dive into our company's operations, allowing graduates to become integral members of our dynamic team.

Throughout the programme, top-performing candidates may be given the opportunity to take up permanent roles, decided on a case-by-case basis by our Senior Leadership team. Mentorship will be provided by leaders in the business who will work closely with each graduate, offering guidance and support while challenging them to strive for excellence and become the best version of themselves.
